

Quality & Safety

Temperature stability

ELISA-reagents, -controls and -buffers should be kept cool (4°C) for long-term stability.

However, raised temperature (up to 37°C) for a limited period of time during transport (up to 7 days), will not affect the performance of those products.

